Dear Turner Professional Group:

Thank you so much for your presentation at our Pediatric Endocrinology Didactics earlier this year. The information you provided to us added a new element to our approach to children with disorders of sex development and gender identity issues. It is obvious that your group has several novel ideas that will complement our existing more traditional approach to these disorders.

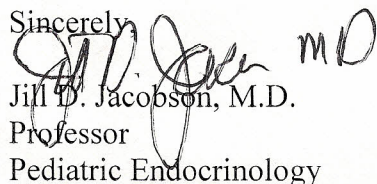

We received many positive comments from the medical and ancillary staff who were in the audience. One of our nurses called it "inspiring."

We look forward to collaborating with you in the future.

Thank you also for sharing with us your posters and flyers.

We plan to continue to refer to you patients with these complex psychological issues.

Sincerely,

M.D.

Jill D. Jacobson, M.D.
